PERSONAL BITE

THE IMPOSTER PHENOMENON – COPING WITH SELF-DOUBT

Shirley Reeder is a Principal in Arup, a Global Engineering and Consulting Firm. She works in the Australasian Management Consulting team where she works with Leaders and their teams throughout the world. Like all working mums, Shirley (who works three days a week), balances her role and related business travel with her personal commitments. She is married to a "world famous" entertainer and has two children; one who has special needs, is in Primary School and the other is in High School. Shirley also volunteers her time coaching staff in charity organisations and cuddles babies at Melbourne's Royal Children's Hospital. This year Shirley has also decided to do some study and has begun a Masters of Applied Science in Innovation and Service Management at RMIT.
